

RN Drive

China's carbon trading scheme to be rolled out nationally by 2016

Wednesday 19 June 2013 7:15PM

IMAGE: (PETER HEALY: ABC NEWS)

China, the world's largest carbon emitter, has launched its first pilot carbon emission trading scheme in the southern city of Shenzhen, to reduce pollution from greenhouse gases.

Shenzhen is one of seven pilot cities which will have schemes in place by 2014 ahead of a national run out in 2016.

Audio Recording